SPLendid PROSPECTS.

Immense Amount of Tobacco to be Marketed Here this Season.

Greensboro's warehouse men—and they are wide awake business men—say that the prospects are fine for the coming season; that unless something unforeseen happens, the tobacco business here will be larger this year than in any year in the history of the business in this city. Some of the farmers have begun to bring in their primings, which are sold at satisfactory prices. Both the warehouses had small sales this morning and though the tobacco was of a low grade, the buyers bought it eagerly at good prices.

The demand for the weed is greater on this market than ever before, and sharp bidding is the result. It is a high grade of tobacco raised in this section, and it finds ready sale in foreign and domestic markets. Big bales of good tobacco will soon be had at the warehouses and Greensboro merchants will reap the benefit. Too few of the merchants, we believe, realize the importance of the tobacco industry here and not enough of them work to better its interests. Every load of tobacco marketed here means dollars for Greensboro. Other cities realize this and work to carry the tobacco there. Greensboro cannot afford to neglect it.

DEVILISH WORK.

Cushions in Handsome Sundry Cut to Pieces.

At Vanstony's livery stables last night a handsome new surry, one of the best vehicles used at the stables, was left in the street, the hands having left vehicles there before, thinking it perfectly safe. During the night some miserable wretch found the surry there and with a knife cut the leather cushions on it into shreds. The damage amounts to several dollars, but if the guilty party is caught Mr. Vanstony will hardly think of money. He wants the villain punished, and if he is caught he will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Imprisonment hardly seems sufficient punishment for one so utterly debased, and the gallow's yawns for him. Chief Scott and his entire force are at work on the case and there is a hope that the rascal may be caught.

Talk of New Scenery.

There is some talk of the Messrs. Meadood putting new scenery and stage property in the academy of music. This will, if carried out, be a stroke of enterprise on the part of these young men that the amusement-loving public will hail with pleasure. There is nothing that adds more to the enjoyment of a play house than good scenic effects. The present equipment is getting worn and rusty. Let the improvement be made.

One-third Off.

To close out the balance of our childrens, misses and infants tan and black sandals and oxfords, we offer them at one-third off price. This means the 1.50 kind for 1.00, 1.25 kind for 84 cents, 1.00 kind for 67 cents, 75 cent kind for 50 cents and 50 cent kind for 33 cents. These are fresh new goods and the prices named are less than cost, but we don't want to carry them over to next season.

Thacker & Brockmann.

Excursion to Norfolk.

The Southern Railway will operate one more cheap rate excursion to Norfolk next Tuesday, September 12th. Fare round trip only $3.00. This is positively the last opportunity this season to visit Norfolk at a reduced rate. Passengers will use the regular passenger train No. 12, leaving Greensboro at 11:45 p. m. Don't forget the date.

New Shifting Engine.

Master of trains J. E. McCarthy, of the Southern, has made arrangements to put another shifting engine on the Winston-Salem yard. This is made necessary by the increase of the Southern's business there, one engine being insufficient to do the shifting. The new engine will be put on in a few days.

Bought a New Mill.

Mr. A. G. Brooks, of Putnam, was in the city today, and we learn purchased a new saw mill, of the Sergeant make, and will soon install it in the piney woods of Moore county. His firm, the Brooks Lumber Co., seems to be doing a fine business.

The A. and M. Opens Well.

In a private letter received from Dr. Winston, president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, says: "We have a tremendously big entering class. From present appearances we shall be overfilled in a month."—Charlotte Observer.

They were inspecting the Texas. "The place we have just left," said her escort, as they went below, "is called the gun deck." "I see," she exclaimed brightly. "And I suppose that place down there where they're raking the fire is called the poker deck."

THE LION SHOWS HIS TEETH

All Military Reserves Ordered to be in Readiness

"THEY WILL WISH FOR PEACE"

Says Chamberlain—The Boers are Determined England Must Fight or Back Down

By Cable to the Telegram

Pretoria, Sept. 7.—General Joubert, the commander-in-chief of the Transvaal army, told a correspondent of the New York World today that England must now back down from her demands or fight. He declared: "Unless the attitude of the British government is modified war is probable. Chamberlain has chosen to hang war or peace upon the franchise issue because he believes the Boers, though willing to make concessions in all other matters, will stand out on this, so as to furnish a casus belli, which he wants."

"The Boers will not surrender their hold on the Transvaal by giving their franchise to the outlanders, or by any other measures. If war is forced upon us the British will get enough of it. We will make them wish for peace."

EQUAL TREATMENT.

Manchester, Sept. 7.—The Guardians Pretoria correspondent telegraphs an interview with Kruger in which the latter declared he had given equal treatment to all and had tried to induce foreigners to become citizens.

THE LION SHOWS HIS TEETH.

London, Sept. 7.—The British war office today placed itself in readiness to call out the entire military reserve force of the kingdom. An official general order was issued this afternoon from the war office commanding all the reserve men of the first and second classes to communicate at once with that office with present addresses. This enables the department to mobilize the troops on a few hours' notice.

VERDICT EXPECTED MONDAY.

There Will be an Appeal if Dreyfus is Convicted.

By Cable to the Telegram

Rennes, Sept. 7.—A verdict is now confidently expected in the Dreyfus case by Monday next. If a conviction is reached there will be an appeal.

Before the arguments began Labori said that inasmuch as Cernuschi had not appeared since the secret session it was only right to say that in the secret session yesterday Cernuschi was forced to admit that he was mistaken in the identity of the accused, having been misled by a photograph, and that Dreyfus is not the man.

The court has decided that it had no power to appoint a commission to take the testimony of Colonel Schwartzkoppen or Colonel Panizzardi. Carriere, who delivered this decision, concluded by claiming that Dreyfus was a traitor. The defense is preparing an appeal. Demange will speak tomorrow and Labori will speak Saturday.

Rennes, Sept. 7.—Labori announced this morning that he had received a telegram from the German and Italian monarchs, and that his appeals will be complied with. The governments replied that the disposition of Schwarzkoppen and Panizzardi will be forwarded immediately.

AQUINALDO PREFERS CHARGES

Against a Filipino General for Failure to Obey Orders.

By Cable to the Telegram

Manila, Sept. 7.—The secret service has learned that Aguinaldo has preferred charges against the Filipino general commanding the Cavite province for failure to obey the order to attack Imus. The Americans treat the Filipinos more like children than enemies. Proofs have been obtained that the mayor of Imus, five members of the council who are active insurgent sympathizers and many insurgent soldiers are visiting the town in disguise. There is no desire to stop them as it is believed that a display of American resources and efforts to give the Filipinos a good government will have a beneficial effect.

Captain Butler, with three companies of the Third Infantry, scattered a body of rebels yesterday at San Rafael. They captured seven prisoners.

J. C. Welch is having his wheat threshed this week at his farm near here. A close estimate of the yield will be 1000 bushels.

F. L. Douthett, of Danville, and Miss Emma Kearns, of Asheville, were united in marriage at the Presbyterian church at Asheville yesterday morning. Rev. A. W. Plyler, pastor of the Methodist church at that place, officiating. The happy couple took the 11:38 train here for points north.

A meeting was held Tuesday night in the room of the Business Men's Association to discuss and take subscription for the establishment of a cotton mill in High Point, and we are told that altogether $80,000 or more of the required $100,000 has been subscribed, and that the balance will be forthcoming.

Mrs. Willard Smith, who died of typhoid fever Tuesday in Lexington, was brought here yesterday on the 11:38 train for burial. The funeral services were held at the M. P. Church at 2 o'clock p. m., conducted by Rev. J. R. Scroggs, of the M. E. Church. The deceased was a cousin of Rev. W. R. Lowdermilk, of this city, and at one time lived here.

The following marriage we made mention of and should have omitted yesterday: W. Fleming Smith of South Carolina and Miss Rosa B. Thornton of this city were married yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, in the M. E. church, Rev. J. R. Scroggs officiating. The happy couple left on the 11:38 train for Mullens, S. C., the home of the groom. Congratulations.

A gentleman who visited High Point yesterday went to see our graded school. Although he had heard of the splendid work being done here in the educational line he was surprised to find such a flourishing school. "It is just simply can't be beat any where," was his complimentary and truthful remark. High Point has a population of about 5,500 and out of that number there are nearly 600 white girls and boys in school. 135 of this number are new students. Can any town in North Carolina the size of High Point show as great a per cent of its population within its public schools. Day-break has dawned upon our people at large and the year 1899 finds North Carolina from center to circumference, thoroughly aroused on the great question of education. Ho! for the old North State.

The Train Left Him.

C. G. Lanier, of Winston, stopped over in Greensboro last night, expecting to take the first train home today, which leaves here about 8:15. He was at the depot in plenty of time and stood waiting for the train to pull up. He did not know it left from the upper end of the station, and he soon discovered that while he waited the train didn't. A system of calling out the departure of trains should be inaugurated. Somebody gets left almost every day.

GOVERNOR TYLER'S VIEWS

Thinks His Chances for Election Are Good.

HE ENCOURAGES HIS FRIENDS

General W. R. Cox, Secretary of the Senate, Will Prob. by Relinquish His Place.

Special to the Telegram

Washington, Sept. 7.—Governor Tyler, of Virginia, was in Washington yesterday morning. While here the Governor stopped at the Metropolitan hotel. He did not remain in the city very long, but while here took the opportunity to confer with several friends. Governor Tyler still maintains that he is satisfied with the progress of the campaign for the senatorship, and that the Martin men are making claims which will not be fulfilled when the time arrives for the election of a United States senator by the legislature. The governor believes that his chances for election are good, and that he will receive a much larger support in the next legislature than is generally expected. While in Washington he did not talk for publication, but it is clear from his statements that, contrary to reports coming from the opposition, he has no intention of withdrawing from the race for the senatorship and that he will remain in the contest until the finish.

The friends of Governor Tyler claim to be much encouraged by developments within the past week or so, but just what these developments are is not clear. Whenever the governor visits Washington his friends take on a more hopeful view of the situation, but it is believed this is largely due to the governor's own confidence in his success, which he imparts to his friends and supporters. Governor Tyler is very sanguine as to the outlook and believes that many of the claims coming from the Martin side as to the big lead of the senator in the state, are without any foundation in fact, and that the reports are spread for the purpose of leading the public to believe that Martin's chances are better than they really are under the surface.

General William R. Cox, of North Carolina, the secretary of the United States senate was in Washington yesterday, stopping at the Shoreham hotel. Gen. Cox, at the beginning of the coming session will probably be compelled to relinquish his position as secretary of the senate, which place he has held to the full satisfaction of the members of the body for so many years. The next senate will be under the control of the republicans, and as a loyal democrat, Gen. Cox naturally expects to have to give way for some man of the opposition political faith.

Gen. Cox has been very popular with the senators on both sides of the chamber, and his retirement next December, if it occurs, will be regretted by many of his friends both in and out of the senate. General Cox says that political affairs in the state are in good shape for the democrats. He has no doubt but the constitutional amendment will carry, and he thinks that it will receive the support of many influential republicans in the state.

Mr. Fred Popham, the youngest son of Col. John R. Popham, who used to be a familiar figure about the capitol building in former years, is in the city. He is here awaiting the arrival of his brother, and in a short time they expect to leave the United States for Central America. Col. Popham was a Virginian, and well known to the residents of Washington in former years, particularly to those having business at the capitol, where he was employed for many years when the house of representatives was under democratic control. It is said that the sons of the colonel are much like their father in appearance and manner.

Hon. H. L. Rammel, of Arkansas, is among well known southern men in Washington. Mr. Rammel is a republican, and has twice been his party's candidate for governor of Arkansas. Notwithstanding his political affiliations, however, he is very popular in the state, having almost as many friends in the ranks of the democracy as in his own party. A well known Arkansas man who is here in speaking of Mr. Rammel stated yesterday that if all republicans in the south were as honest, able, and conscientious as Mr. Rammel, the party in that section would be much stronger than it is today.

Mr. M. C. Winston, of Selma, N. C., is at the National hotel for a few days or personal business.

Mr. C. A. Pierce, of North Carolina, is also in the city. He is stopping at the National hotel.

At the earnest solicitation of friends I have decided to open a private kindergarten on September 18. Having been in the work for the past six years I assure the public of the most thorough and up to date kindergarten methods.

WILL BE A GOOD ROAD.

Major Guthrie Gives an Opinion About the D. & C.

"People generally don't know what a fine line of road the Durham and Charlotte will be when it is completed," said Major Guthrie recently. "It will be one of the best lines in the state. It has just now reached the point where it is on a paying basis. It has 23 miles in operation from Gulf on the old C. F. & Y. V. to Elsie, the present terminus. It will run through some of the finest virgin timber sections of the state and its connections will be unsurpassed."

When completed it will connect with three systems, the N. and W., S. A. L. and Southern at Durham; strike the Seaboard at Pittsboro, the Southern at G. I. f., the Carthage and Western at Hallison, the Aberdeen & Asheville at Star, the Southern at Albemarle and all the systems running into Charlotte.

The road is being equipped with 56 pound steel rail. About 100 hands are kept at work on it. It may build on to Troy next or the link from Durham to Gulf, through the hard wood section of Haw River, may be built."—News and Observer.

WAS FRIGHTENED AWAY.

Would-be Burglar Shot at and Gets Scarce.

To the fact that R. S. McClamroch, who lives on West Lee street, is not an expert at handling a revolver some miscreant today owes a great deal—perhaps his life. Late last night Mr. McClamroch heard some one trying to enter his residence through a rear window. He secured his pistol and went to the fight. Getting a good view of his man he aimed and fired and immediately there was swift running.

Mr. McClamroch says he thinks his bullet took effect in his target's hand but no loose fingers nor any blood was found in the yard this morning, from which it seems more probable that the bullet went wild.

WHAT WILL THE KAISER DO?

The salvation of Captain Dreyfus is said to hang upon a word from Emperor William. If the Kaiser consents to allow Colonel Schwartkopp, the German military attaché in Paris in 1894, to testify before the court-martial, or to send a deposition, or, what is considered still more probable, to allow his deposition to be accompanied by the actual documents mentioned in the bordereau, then Dreyfus is saved. If the emperor, however, decides that it is not in the interests of Germany for Colonel Schwartkopp to intervene, then Dreyfus' case is hopeless and his condemnation certain.

The fate of the prisoner is like a frail bark in a tempest-tossed ocean straining to reach the rope from the shore. Occasionally riding serenely upon the crest of the dashing waters, it is suddenly caught and engulfed with the rush of the breakers, and hope all but flees. Today the sky brightens and justice seems to reign, tomorrow the clouds return and the lurid lightnings of base intrigue and malignant teachery again flash in fury, and despair seizes the cause of the tortured soldier once more.

He has the sympathy of the world of Christianity and humanity, who believe in his innocence, and the outcome of the Rennes trial is awaited with the most absorbing interest.

Railroad wrecks seem to come by spells. Yesterday morning an accident occurred to a passenger train on the Norfolk & Western, near Narrows, Va., killing two persons and injuring twenty-three. Last night at Connellsville, Pa., on the Baltimore & Ohio, there was a rear-end collision in which fifty persons were injured. On the Erie near Meadville, Pa., yesterday, a wreck occurred in which four men were killed and several injured. Yesterday on the Norfolk & Western seven were killed by a freight train wreck near Williamsburg, Va. Dire calamity seemed to follow the rails yesterday.

"KNOWS IN HIS SOUL HE LIES."

B. S. Sheppard's Reply to C. M. Bernard.

Greenville, N. C., Sept. 6.—After reading in yesterday's papers the statements of District Attorney Bernard made relative to the attack on him Saturday night, your correspondent had another interview with B. S. Sheppard, who gave the following for publication:

"I do not intend to dignify a dirty, mean wretch like Bernard with a newspaper controversy, but I will not allow him to create the impression, as he is seeking to do, that my attack on him was instigated or encouraged by his personal or political enemies. I solemnly assert upon the honor of an innocent and injured man that no human being had any information or intimation that I intended to attack him and he knows in his guilty soul he lies when he says the attack was instigated by his political and personal enemies. He also knows he lies when he says that I did not denounce him at the time I fired upon him as the destroyer of my home. There were numbers of persons, black and white, standing near him who heard it and will so testify. But he did not need me to tell him the cause of the attack. In his black and guilty heart he knows the cause, and when he was fleeing like a cowardly cur he knew he was fleeing from the wrath of an outraged man."

As further evidence that Mr. Sheppard was not influenced by personal and political enemies of Bernard to make the assault, he showed a letter from his son, who is off at school and who has not been in Greenville in four years. This letter was dated the 4th inst. and in part reads as follows: "Dear Father:

"I read this morning in the News and Observer that you had shot at Claude Bernard. It was no more than I had expected. Write me and tell me all about it. You ought to have practiced shooting before you tried your hand. The paper said that all the people regretted was that you missed your mark. What did you do about it, and where is Claude Bernard now? I was mad when I heard about it, that you did not kill him."

Numbers of parties at the depot at the time of the shooting say emphatically that Sheppard did accuse Bernard of ruining his home. Your correspondent was present at the trial before the justice and heard Sheppard face him with the charge while Bernard was on the witness stand. There are many other false things in Bernard's statements. Your correspondent alone is the author of every telegram sent to the press from Greenville bearing upon the matter, and is in a position to substantiate every word that has been sent.—Special to News and Observer.

Wonderful Number 4.

There are 4 cardinal points, 4 winds, 4 quarters of the moon, 4 seasons, 4 figures in the quadrille, 4 rules of arithmetic, 4 suits of cards, 4 quarters to the hour, 4 legs for furniture, most animals go on 4 legs. We have 4 incisors and 4 canine teeth, and our forks have 4 prongs. All animals, when butchered, are cut into 4 quarters. The violin, greatest of musical instruments, has but 4 strings. There are 4 great continents. Every great railway has 4 tracks. When we grow old, we have 4 eyes. Every room has 4 corners and 4 sides. Every question has 4 sides—the inside, the outside, the right side and the wrong side. Yet only one show in the world has 4 rings and 4 charming female champion equestrians and 4 graceful male champion bareback riders, and that is John Robinson's show which exhibits here on Wednesday, September 13. In addition to the champion riders as above mentioned, there are over 100 artists who appear in the arena, and over 20 clowns headed by the famous Lowlow and in all, over 400 salaried people with this big show.

Those whose English and mathematical education will permit their doing so, may enter for the Commercial Course, including stenography, typewriting and book-keeping, or any other single course, such as Domestic Science, and their expenses for the year, in addition to the $14 in fees, will be only $20.

6. In the dormitories of the college board is furnished at actual cost to all students, and by the charter of the institution this cost cannot go beyond $8 a month. A certain number of the boarding places in the dormitories are reserved for free-tuition students who take a pledge to become teachers, and the remainder for tuition-paying students who do not take a pledge to teach. All the free-tuition vacancies have been filled, and all the tuition-paying vacancies will be filled within a week. Of course it is possible that some of the appointees may be compelled by sickness or for some other providential reason to give up their places between now and October 5, in which case new applicants will be admitted to fill vacancies.

7. A number of the students will desire to board in private families near the college. Our students will not be permitted to board in homes which take other boarders and only in such homes as will adopt the regulations and discipline of the college dormitories so far as it may be practicable to do so. If there are families in Greensboro desiring boarders I should be glad to have notification by letter stating the number of boarders desired and the price to be charged.

8. Miss Laura Brockmann will have charge of the instrumental music and will give lessons in her studio in the main college building instead of in a private studio near the State Normal and Industrial College as heretofore. Miss Brockmann will have such assistance as the conditions may require.

9. All who expect to enter the college next year should send at once for a copy of the catalogue and formal application blank to be filled out.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures dyspepsia because its ingredients are such that it can't help doing so. "The public can rely upon it as a master remedy for all disorders arising from imperfect digestion."—James M. Thomas, M. D., in American Journal of Health, N. Y. Howard Gardner.

No Cure—No Pay.

"HIS WASH IN A HAT."

A Young Lawyer Packs a Dozen Pieces in, Then Forgets Them.

"The other night," said a young lawyer at luncheon yesterday, "I put on my evening clothes, despite the heat. As my family is out of town, and as I am eternally forgetting to have washing done, it struck me while I dressed that I would pass a laundry on my way downtown, and that it would be well to cart along and leave a few soiled articles. I packed them—a dozen pieces—in the crown of my tall hat. Then I sallied forth, immaculate and elegant, and from that moment all thought of the laundry deserted me."

"Manipulating a cigarette gracefully, I stood a little later at Broad and Chestnut streets and waited for a cab. Pierce electric lights beat down on me, and no doubt I made an imposing figure. A man I knew came along with his daughter, and we rushed together for a chat. I doffed my hat, and its contents pattered down around us. The collars rolled gayly, like little white hoopsnakes, here and there. One of the handkerchiefs fell on the young lady's shoe, and she was good enough to stoop and restore it to me. The shirt in some way managed to distend itself, and lay at our feet in that pose—full length, on the face, with outstretched arms—in which captives crave the mercy of victorious kings. It was, truly, an awful moment, and I don't know whether I emerged from it gracefully or not. I guess not."—Philadelphia Record.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers,

The famous little pills.

CAN'T DRINK IN MODERATION.

A Bear That Has the Lamentable Weakness of Some Men.

"Dick," the Russian brown bear in Lincoln Park is in disgrace. Some admirer of the Bruin family pushed a bottle of pure rye whiskey through the bars of "Dick's" cage on Monday evening. The bear drank the liquor and there was trouble the rest of the night, for he kept all the other bears of his household awake, and also those in the flat above.

The matter of "Dick's" fall from grace was the subject of grave consideration before the Lincoln Park board yesterday. The upshot of it was a decision that the bear should be ostracized from the society of his mates. One of the commissioners suggested the gold cure, but this was deemed impracticable. A special cage will be built for him and he will be kept in solitary confinement and away from temptation.

Cy De Vry, the animal keeper, says that when "Dick" is sober he is a good bear, but the minute he tastes liquor he loses control of himself and gives full swing to his appetite. When in his cups, "Dick" claws the other bears, chews the bars of his cage, and becomes generally disagreeable. He also tries to bite imaginary foes who, he thinks, are surrounding him.

Three weeks ago the bear fell to thinking about his former free and untrammelled life in a Gypsy camp, and resolved to change the scenery of his environment. He scaled a tall, iron-picketed fence, and led a number of keepers, citizens and policemen in an exciting chase through the flower gardens.

Yesterday morning after his nightly carousal Dick's nervous system was in a shocking condition. In his delirium he made a break for freedom. Hardly had his long, broad feet been dug up chunks of the gravel pathway before a lasso from the hands of Keeper Cy De Vry went sailing over the head of Bruin and settled around his neck. Then Park Policeman Guard and Keeper De Vry braced themselves at the other end of the rope, and the bear's second trip in the open was brought to an abrupt close.

He reared on his haunches, turned completely over, summersault fashion, and struck the ground on his side with a thud. It was a dazed and degraded bear that was dragged back to the pit. The animal had taken the same method of egress as on the first occasion, when he scaled the rock wall and nimbly clambered over a guard of sharpened iron bars which have appalled generations of bears not of the gypsy variety—Chicago Inter Ocean.

CECIL RHODES' SISTER.

Peculiarities of One of the Most Interesting Women in South Africa.

In going down to Cape Town recently on the Union Line steamship Scot, a knot of persons gathered about a woman who occupied a steamer chair on the hurricane deck. She was Cecil Rhodes' sister, and the name of Rhodes has a conquering power in the dark continent. Moreover, next to Olive Schreiner, champion of the Boers, the most interesting woman in South Africa today is Miss Alice Rhodes.

Whenever the peculiarities of the ex-premier are discussed by those who know the Rhodes family, the conversation is sure to turn sooner or later to the eccentric sister, who is far famed for evincing the same dislike for men that the empire builder shows toward women. Her appearance, too, is so decidedly masculine as to attract eyes.

Her face is as smoothly florid as that of the typical English squire with a voice to match. She usually sits with feet wide apart, and in general lacks those qualities which go to make up feminine attractiveness.

With an active, healthy and penetrating mind, she directs her affairs with the same success as her brother, who is the only man for whom she seems to care. An ample fortune obviates the necessity of making friends, but her impulse acts of generosity have done this for her.

During two days she directed the athletic contests on the Scot. In a way that proved her executive ability. Sitting at the point of vantage on the promenade deck, with the captain, several officers and a woman companion, who is always at her side, Miss Rhodes regulated the hand caps for the running matches, umpired the chicken fights, and was particularly active in the tug of war. Twelve dusky Cornishmen had succeeded in pulling everything on the ship excepting the crew's expert team. They had never been beaten.

Fifteen hundred passengers crowded to the starboard to witness this Herculean struggle, for Miss Rhodes was backing the Cornishmen, and offered an additional prize of five pounds to the winners. For one whole hour the tug lasted. Finally the sailors' sea training began to tell, and gradually, inch by inch, they were hauling the cornwall miners near the fatal line, when Miss Rhodes sprang to her feet and cried out:

"My faith, Cornishmen, take off your shoes. That's why the sailors are beating you." The committee on rules decided that this was no infrac-tion, as the sailors were also bare-footed, and then the tug went on. Fixing her eye on one big fellow who looked as though he could pull a rail-road train, Miss Rhodes would say from time to time, "I'm counting on you, man," and the miner was so encouraged by this that he finally made an effort which nearly broke his back, but yanked the sailors over the line so suddenly that both teams went down like nincompoops.

When in Cape Town Miss Rhodes lives at Grosvenor, a beautiful country seat near the city, where she has collected a zoological garden including nearly every wild animal in South Africa. She is versed in politics and statecraft more thoroughly than many a member of the colonial office. She takes the opposite view, of course, from Olive Schreiner, and was very indignant recently when Sir Alfred Milner's sister, who is the first lady of the land in Cape Colony, as his Excellency is not married, kissed a little Kaffir girl who had won a prize at the public school examinations.

A Wonderful Cure of Diarrhoea.

A prominent Virginia editor had almost given up, but was brought back to perfect health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read his editorial. From the Times, Hillsville, Va.

I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore, Sold by C. E. Holton.

The old fable of Cupid with a bow and arrow is a misconception. He should carry a sower's seed-bag. Love is a germ, not a wound.—Alice G. Wilson.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers of children affected with croup or a severe cold need not hesitate to administer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It contains no opiate nor narcotic in any form and may be given as confidently to the babe as to an adult. The great success that has attended its use in the treatment of colds and croup has won for it the approval and praise it has received throughout the United States and in many foreign lands. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

A useless life is only an early death.—Goetha.

Hamilton Clarke, of Chauncy, Ga. says he suffered with itching piles twenty years before trying DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, two boxes of which completely cured him. Beware of worthless and dangerous counterfeits. Howard Gardner.

It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

Some of Capt. B. J. Fisher's friends think that he is preparing to sail for South Africa and help England, his native country, settle her trouble with the Boers. The captain today had one of his servants employed in shining up three swords, which he used when an active captain in the English army. This does look war-like, and, as the statement that he will go to war, his friends have just cause to expect his departure, unless the trouble between Johnny Bull and his South African subjects is soon settled without resort to arms.

A DELIGHTFUL DANCE

Given Last Night Complimentary to Charming Visitors.

One of the most enjoyable dances of the season was given at McAdoo hall last night, by a few young men. It was complimentary to a number of accomplished young ladies who are visiting in the city, and who, together with the usual number of local beauties, made the dance a delightful affair. Dancing began at 9:30 o'clock and was kept up almost unceasingly until 1:30, when the happy dancers disbanded.

The guests of honor were: Miss Lee,
of Goldsboro; Miss Bailey, of Wheel-

General Wheeler

Taking in the situation around Manila. Now let Uncle Sam relieve Otis and give the old Buttermilk Ranger a half chance and you'll very soon hear the insurgents calling for the calf rope. The name Buttermilk Ranger was given to our cavalry during the 60s. An army to be victorious must have confidence in their leader. Take the record of General Jackson. Why, the soldiers under him knew no such thing as defeat, and to just say that Jackson's confidence in the rear was enough to throw consternation in the camp of the enemy. Confidence is just as important in the commercial world, and the mere mention of the name

HARRY-BELK BROS. CO.

creates a panic in the mercantile arena. We cannot understand how we can always get in the rear of their prices, but this is easily explained. For we have a leader that knows every hog path that leads to the manufacturing plants of this country and keeps posted. In this way you see we only buy from first hands, thereby saving the middleman's profit. Our buyer spends weeks in the market. Take the array of stores—Charlotte, Greensboro, Monroe, and Union, S. C., and you will at once see that it requires tons upon tons of goods to supply them. Buying so largely we take the entire output of a number of factories. In this way we get the inside prices. Our buyer will soon

....LAND....

in the manufacturing centres of this union and, like Wheeler in the Philippines, you will hear something drop shortly in old Guilford that will astonish the natives. Before it takes place, and in order to make room, we have made JOB COUNTERS in all departments to clean up many valuable lines at half price. Price is no object. The room is what we want and must have. Be quick.
